EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

I. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Okanagan Valley Destination Development Strategy has been developed to enhance the competitiveness of the planning area over the next 10 years and beyond.

This strategy is part of Destination BC's Destination Development Program. The Program is a critical part of Destination BC's corporate strategy and facilitates the collaboration of local, regional, and provincial agencies, First Nations, destination marketing organizations (DMOs), tourism operators, and other community interests to guide the long-term growth of tourism in the Okanagan Valley.

In addition to supporting the underlying goals of the provincial program, the purpose of the strategy is to:

- Provide strategic direction for the planning area and guidance for local and regional strategies
- Enhance the Okanagan Valley's ability to leverage their resources and programs

- Foster joint action and inter-community dialogue

The strategy is intended to serve as a guide for tourism partners as they proceed with implementation and should be tracked on a regular basis. While tourism has two primary revenue drivers — supply and demand, destination development focuses on the supply side and what is required to create a compelling visitor experience to attract new visitors and entice repeat visitation. This document is one of seven strategies prepared for the Thompson Okanagan tourism region and one of 20 for the province. It was developed based on extensive, collaborative effort during an nineteen-month process that culminated in the creation of a situation analysis report and document.

A semi-arid valley and plateau region offering a distinctive diversity of lakes, orchards and vineyards, pine forests, and mountain backcountry — bursting with a cornucopia of flavours and providing a backdrop for year-round active fun and challenge. A destination offering relaxed urban energy fused with the inter-play of traditional and living Okanagan Nation culture, and the heritage and stories of more recent times.

The Okanagan Valley planning area encompasses the Regional District of Central Okanagan (RDCO), electoral areas A (Osoyoos Rural), C (Oliver Rural), D (Kaleden/OK Falls), E (Naramata), and F (Okanagan Lake West/West Bench) of the Okanagan Similkameen Regional District, and part of electoral area E (West Boundary) of the Regional District of Kootenay Boundary. Municipalities include Lake Country, Kelowna, West Kelowna, Peachland, Summerland, Penticton, Oliver, Keremeos, and Osoyoos. First Nations include Okanagan Indian Band, Westbank First Nations, Penticton Indian Band, and the Osoyoos Indian Band — all part of the Okanagan Nation Alliance.

The Okanagan Valley planning area includes most of the Okanagan Valley, Skaha Lake, and the Okanagan River. The region is known for its sunny climate, dry landscapes, and lakeshore communities and associated lifestyle. Agriculture is a central theme of economic and cultural life — the Okanagan has the highest concentrations of orchards, vineyards, and wineries in BC and Canada.

A. THE DIRECTION

The vision for the planning area is based on the 10-year aspirations for the Okanagan Valley expressed by tourism partners during the consultation process.

In identifying development priorities for the Okanagan Valley planning area, consideration was given to building on the Embracing Our Potential strategic framework. Embracing Our Potential is the Thompson Okanagan's ten-year regional tourism strategy.

This vision is also aligned with the existing community plans and related strategy frameworks. It also highlights underlying elements that differentiate the area. These form the basis of the strategy's motivating experiences.

With this vision in place, the development focus is on four themes:

- managing and sustaining the natural environment
- industry readiness
- transportation, connectivity, and supporting infrastructure
- visitor experience

INTRODUCING THE STRATEGY

The Okanagan Valley Destination Development Strategy was developed to enhance the competitiveness of the planning area over the next 10 years and beyond. This strategy was developed as part of Destination BC's Destination Development Program.

A. PROGRAM VISION AND GOALS

The Program is a critical part of Destination BC's corporate strategy and facilitates the collaboration of local, regional, and provincial agencies, First Nations, destination marketing organizations (DMOs), tourism operators, and other community interests to guide the long-term growth of tourism in the Okanagan Valley.

The provincial vision for the Destination Development Program is:

BC is a world-class tourism destination that offers remarkable products and experiences that are authentic, driven by visitor demand, exceed expectations, and align with BC's brand.

The provincial vision is supported by three goals:

- Make BC the most highly recommended destination in North America.
- Create strategic 10-year strategies for tourism development and improve return-on-investment for government and private sector investments in tourism assets.
- Elevate BC's ability to compete as a premium destination while making the province more attractive for investment.

Destination development brings together strategy, policy, and capacity building efforts to:

- Ensure that a destination is well positioned to make future strategic decisions.
- Address impediments to growth and capitalize on opportunities.
- Outline key assets of a destination including the main product themes/ experiences available.
- Outline key priorities for new product, infrastructure, and amenity development.
- Identify impediments to development and tourism growth (e.g., potential policy or capacity issues, available funding, access to funding, etc.).

B. PURPOSE OF STRATEGY

This strategy supports the goals of the provincial Destination Development Program but also:

- Provides strategic direction for the region and guidance for local and regional strategies.
- Enhances the Okanagan Valley's ability to leverage their resources and programs.
- Fosters joint action and inter-community dialogue.

This strategy serves as a guide for tourism partners as they proceed with implementation. This document should be reviewed and updated as necessary to reflect changing tourism objectives, priorities, and market conditions. In addition, results should be tracked regularly so that future implementation activities become more effective in increasing economic, social, and cultural benefits for the entire Okanagan Valley planning area.

Drivers

C. A FOCUS ON THE SUPPLY AND EXPERIENCE

Destination development is the mechanism whereby the natural life cycle of tourism (e.g., development, stagnation, decline, and rejuvenation) is managed to ensure a destination evolves to remain desirable for the consumer and competitive in its target markets. Destination development happens when industry and government plan and work together to enhance the quality of the visitor's experience by ensuring tourism products, services, amenities, and practices meet and exceed visitor expectations over the long term.

Tourism has two primary revenue drivers — supply and demand. Creative marketing efforts strive to generate short-term demand for a destination and create immediate urgency for people to want to visit. Destination development focuses on the supply side of tourism by creating a compelling visitor experience to attract new visitors and entice repeat visitation. Sharing of experiences via social networks (e.g., Facebook, Instagram, Twitter) and third-party platforms allow the traveller to review their experience (e.g., TripAdvisor, Google) in real time.

There are multiple dimensions to supply that are considered in destination development planning to enhance the visitor experience:

- The setting in which our experiences take place and how to access them.
- Policies that establish and maintain opportunities and growth barriers.
- The investment enhancement framework.
- Products and experiences matched to consumer interests, including infrastructure and amenities (which are often public in nature and used by residents as well as visitors).
- Visitor servicing programs that meet and exceed guest expectations.
- Capabilities, skills, and training our industry needs so that we all can excel at what we do.

D. METHODOLOGY

This strategy is the final product of an nineteen-month planning process that also included a situation analysis report.

The destination development planning approach was iterative and provided various opportunities for stakeholder input and validation (Figure 3). The process followed a semi-structured strategic approach, created by Destination BC, that ensured the considerations of this planning area are assessed and respected. The discussions built upon the consultations for the 2012–2022 Thompson Okanagan Regional Tourism Strategy. A volunteer Working Group contributed their expertise. Their input helped develop the goals and supporting objectives and plans contained in this strategy.

E. PROJECT OUTPUTS

Three key outputs from this project are:

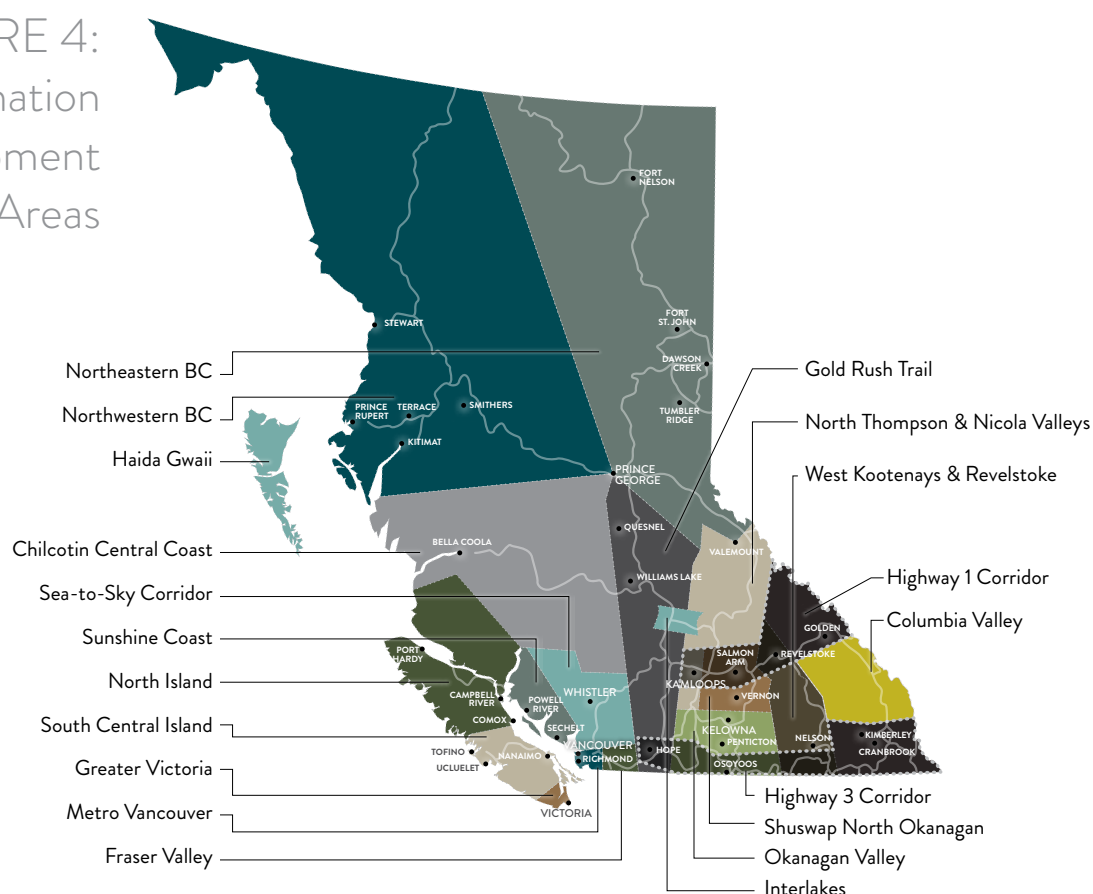

1. An asset inventory of accommodations, tourism businesses and attractions, tourism organizations, food and beverage establishments, parks and recreation sites, sports and arts facilities, meeting facilities, transportation, and visitor services.
2. A Situation Analysis report that provides foundational research related to the Okanagan Valley, access and infrastructure, key tourism assets, key markets, a destination assessment, and priority planning area considerations used to inform the strategy.
3. This Destination Development Strategy.

ALIGNMENT

The destination development strategy for the Okanagan Valley planning area is one of seven that will be prepared for the Thompson Okanagan tourism region and one of 20 for the province (Figure 4).

FIGURE 4:
Twenty Destination
Development
Planning Areas

The other planning areas within the Thompson Okanagan region are the Shuswap-North Okanagan and the North Thompson & Nicola Valleys. Four planning areas span multiple tourism regions and are partially in the Thompson Okanagan tourism region: Highway 1 Corridor, Highway 3 Corridor, Gold Rush Trail, and Interlakes. Over the course of Destination BC's Destination Development Planning Program, each of the province's six tourism regions will integrate their planning area strategies into their respective Regional Destination Development Strategies which, in turn, will be used to inform the Provincial Destination Development Strategy. For the Thompson Okanagan tourism region, the process also allows for a refresh of its 2012-22 regional tourism strategy.

It is important to recognize that visitors do not make travel decisions based on artificial boundaries created by governments and organizations. As a result, planning areas span multiple jurisdictions thus reinforcing the importance of an integrated approach with a shared vision and prioritized investments.

SUCCESS NETWORK

Success networks represent the clusters of businesses and organizations (private sector, government, and not-for-profit) who are encouraged to collaborate and work in harmony to bring the opportunity to fruition. Successful destination development implementation recognizes that we all have a role to play.

The recommendations contained within this Destination Development Strategy form the foundation for additional, focused, and aligned discussions regarding implementation locally, regionally, and provincially. Organizations identified within each tactical success network will be able to review, locally, regionally, and provincially, the potential for growing tourism, by leading, or supporting implementation, and action. It does not imply the organizations have committed or endorsed the tactic. This strategy is intended to inform conversations that may lead to future investments and actions, or that will contribute to growing this planning area's and British Columbia's visitor economy.

It is important to note that the development opportunities are not mutually exclusive.

THE STAKEHOLDERS
DEMONSTRATED A DESIRE TO WORK TOGETHER THROUGHOUT
THE COMMUNITY
CONSULTATIONS. THE COMPLEXITY OF THE
TOURISM OPPORTUNITY IS UNDERSTOOD WITHIN THE PLANNING AREA.

Tourism partners have already articulated their desire to work cooperatively on destination development initiatives. It is believed that only by working collaboratively that the true potential of the planning area can be realized.

The following partners have been identified collectively through the strategy development process as likely playing a role in moving a potential objective or action forward:

This strategy is intended to inform actions for the future, which over time may be embedded in the local, regional, and provincial decision making. The result will be an integrated system of priorities that will achieve better development decisions, drive greater tourism revenues, and realize benefits for businesses and communities within the planning area. All this will contribute to a thriving, vibrant, and growing economy.

Joint strategy ownership among all planning area tourism partners is a critical component of this program's success. The planning process identifies a suggested success network of tourism partners to champion and move actions within each objective forward. However, during implementation, leads and involved parties would need to be verified. In many instances, executing on an initiative may require sharing responsibilities and entities listed will be responsible to lead their own areas.

The regional representatives at the Thompson Okanagan Tourism Association have an important role to play as regional destination development champions. As this planning process is not intended to duplicate ongoing efforts or create new organizational or administrative structures, the implementation of this strategy should first be executed through existing organizations, where possible.

OVERVIEW OF THE OKANAGAN VALLEY

The Okanagan Valley planning area encompasses the Regional District of Central Okanagan (RDCO), electoral areas A (Osoyoos Rural), C (Oliver Rural), D (Kaleden/OK Falls), E (Naramata), and F (Okanagan Lake West/West Bench) of the Okanagan Similkameen Regional District, and part of electoral area E (West Boundary) of the Regional District of Kootenay Boundary. Municipalities include Lake Country, Kelowna, West Kelowna, Peachland, Summerland, Penticton, Oliver, Keremeos, and Osoyoos.

The Okanagan Valley planning area includes most of the Okanagan Valley, Skaha Lake, and the Okanagan River. The area is known for its dry and sunny climate, landscapes, and lakeshore communities and associated lifestyle. Agriculture is a central theme of economic and cultural life — the Okanagan has the highest concentrations of orchards, vineyards, and wineries in BC and Canada.

The planning area corresponds with one of the five sub-regions identified in the 2011 planning process for the 10-year Thompson Okanagan regional tourism strategy and reflects elements of geographic commonality relating to the lakes and river systems, the upland terrain and trails, and the agricultural landscape.

A. DESCRIPTION OF THE POPULATION BASE, COMMUNITIES INCLUDED, AND FIRST NATIONS

The population of the planning area was 266,050 in 2016, distributed among eight municipalities and unincorporated areas.

Population growth averaged 5.3% between 2011 and 2016, with most of this occurring in the Central Okanagan. Except for Summerland, the municipalities in the Regional District of Okanagan-Similkameen showed population loss. There are four First Nations' communities in the planning area, with an estimated 2016 population of 4,531.

B. DESCRIPTION OF ECONOMY BASE — HISTORICAL AND CURRENT<sup>1</sup>

The Regional District of the Central Okanagan has a diversified economy with healthcare, education, construction, technology, manufacturing, agriculture, and tourism being key economic drivers along with the Kelowna General Hospital and Kelowna International Airport. The warm climate (boasting 2,000 hours of sunlight annually) makes this area one of the more important agricultural centres in the province.

The diversified Okanagan-Similkameen economies of Penticton, Summerland, Okanagan Falls, Oliver, and Osoyoos benefit from their proximity to Penticton Regional Airport, and access to a skilled labour force. Healthcare is the largest employer due to the location of the Penticton Regional Hospital, local hospitals and numerous retirement facilities. The economy boasts robust custom manufacturing, large construction firms as well as numerous wineries, agriculture, and tourism businesses. The construction and manufacturing sectors are the most important and growing private sector segments. The area is a recognized fruit and viticulture centre, with wineries offering excellent facilities and products. Consistent four-season weather provides a home for international sporting events, training facilities, and outdoor adventure options that draw large numbers of tourists, athletes, and their families to the area.

In BC, the measurement of industry performance is largely based on room revenue, with this data being derived from the returns of the Municipal and Regional District Tax (MRDT). MRDT data for total room revenue for the three communities was $149 million in 2016, an increase of 9% over 2015. Particularly strong performance was seen in Osoyoos, but Kelowna and Penticton also performed well. Big White has been excluded from MRDT estimates due to data suppression.

Visitor Centre visitation has increased in the planning area, which is almost identical to the Thompson Okanagan visitation growth of 7.8%, and overall BC visitation change of 0.6%.

Parks represent a major destination attraction for visitors. The provincial park system in the planning area hosted more than 1.4 million overnight and day-users in 2016, an 11.5% increase over 2015. Growth has been particularly robust in parks near the Kelowna area, including Myra-Bellevue and Bear Creek.

D. KEY VISITOR MARKETS

TOTA has identified and profiled EQ segments in line with Destination BC's EQ targets and priorities.

- In 2017, the BC market is 1,896,321 households and 4,817,160 population. Top EQ types are Free Spirits (20%), Authentic Experiencers (14%), Rejuvenators (14%) and Cultural Explorers (13%). The 25-64 age group, consisting of young families and Baby Boomers, is dominant and growth is expected to be robust for at least the next decade. BC residents will travel multiple times per year providing ample opportunity to entice them to the area.
- In 2017, the Alberta market is 1,613,309 households and 4,306,039 population, with top EQ types being No Hassle Travellers (22%) Gentle Explorers (18%), Authentic Experiencers (17%), Free Spirits (15% of households), and Cultural Explorers (10%). Alberta markets have an appreciation of nature and seek out connections to the wild.
- The Washington market consists of 2,865,392 households and the EQ profiles are like BC and Alberta, with leading segments being Authentic Experiencers (18%), Gentle Explorers (12%), Free Spirits (11%) and Cultural Explorers (11%).

In 2012, Destination BC produced an in-market study of the Thompson Okanagan tourism region conducted among BC, Alberta, and Washington residents. Half of the respondents who are familiar with the Thompson Okanagan have a very favourable overall impression of the region.

The research on trip motivation versus participation is noteworthy. Visitors to Thompson Okanagan destinations participated in a far greater range of activities while on their trip than they were originally motivated by while booking their vacations. Sightseeing, visiting friends and relatives, visiting wineries, and hiking were the most common trip motivators. Those activities with the largest gap in motivation versus participation offer the greatest opportunities to differentiate from competing destinations.

E. OVERVIEW OF TOURISM ASSETS, INFRASTRUCTURE, AND UNIQUE SELLING PROPOSITIONS

The Okanagan Valley is a landscape of low hills, oblong lakes, and large glacial deposits left by the last ice age. Sediments eroded by water and wind resulted in large alluvial fans and deltas on which the major cities of Kelowna and Penticton stand. The Okanagan Valley watershed drains south through the Okanagan River into the Columbia River.

The dry, sunny climate and fertile landscapes have created a rich agricultural and recreation legacy, vibrant lakeshore communities, and a relaxing and fulfilling lifestyle. With an average of more than 2,100 hours of sunshine per year and very little precipitation, the area is an exceptional setting for nature-based activities and agritourism. Visitors participate in many activities including golf, hiking, horseback riding, mountain biking, swimming, parasailing, water sports, winery tours, and more. Next to the Fraser Valley, the Okanagan Valley is the most important agricultural region in British Columbia, with the primary crop being fruit trees. The Okanagan is home to many award-winning wineries. In winter, some of the best downhill skiing in North America can be found at its three major ski resorts. Skiing, snowboarding, Nordic skiing, ice fishing, and other winter activities are popular in the planning area.

Key tourism features and assets include:

- LAKES AND BEACHES The major valley lakes of Okanagan, Skaha, and Osoyoos provide the backdrop for the Okanagan's famed summer reputation. Numerous parks and beaches dot Okanagan Lake, making boating and swimming very popular activities, together with an array of water-based recreational activities and commercial camping facilities.
- POCKET DESERT and distinctive ecosystems with shrub-steppe antelope-brush are one of the most endangered ecosystems in Canada.
- The FARMED LANDSCAPE set within the valleys and against the backdrop of the mountains.
- A range of BC PARKS that provide camping and day-use facilities and base areas to engage in a wide range of water and land-based activities.
- Extensive TRAILS, including the iconic Kettle Valley Railway, the potential of a long-distance rail trail running from Sicamous to Osoyoos, and numerous, localized trail systems.
- LAKE FISHING opportunities.
- BIG WHITE SKI RESORT, and additional resorts including Apex Ski Resort and Baldy Mountain Resort — together offer an extensive range of outdoor winter recreational activities, and a growing number of summer activities including the introduction of downhill mountain biking at Big White.
- RESORT MUNICIPALITIES Osoyoos is a resort municipality under the Resort Municipality Initiative.
- GOLF the Okanagan is a hotbed for golf, with 25 different 18-hole courses, many in picturesque settings suitable for casual and dedicated golfers, and facilities such as Gallagher's Canyon ranking among the top 50 courses in Canada (SCOREGolf).
- ROUTE 97 North America's longest continuous north-south highway, extending from California to the Yukon, running through the Okanagan Valley.
- STRONG ARTS AND CULTURE SECTOR with a range of themed museums, art galleries, the Kelowna Cultural District and an annual Lake Country Art Walk. Heritage-based attractions such as the Kettle Valley Steam Railway, and a strong year-round events sector that includes major festivals such as the Okanagan Wine Festival, Okanagan Fest-of-Ale, Penticton Elvis Festival, Meadowlark Nature Festival, and the Summerland Festival of Lights.

- Strong and growing INDIGENOUS SECTOR that includes the Nk'Mip Desert Culture Centre, Spirit Ridge Resort, Indigenous wineries, and food outlets.
- World-class strengths in food, wine, and other craft drinks. The Okanagan Valley is the second largest wine region in Canada with approximately 4,000 hectares under cultivation and over 150 wineries. A wide range of associated experiences, from wine trails and festivals to the annual Canadian Culinary Championships. The food and drink sector is underpinned by a strong agricultural sector with visitor access to various farm, vineyard, and orchard experiences.

- The planning area features a variety of sports teams, competitions and endurance events year-round, attracting participants and spectators from all over the world.

Further detail on the tourism features and assets can be found in the Situation Analysis report.

F. SUMMARY OF KEY STRENGTHS, CHALLENGES, AND OPPORTUNITIES

From a tourism destination perspective, the Okanagan Valley planning area benefits from a range of strengths. However, it is also facing destination development challenges, some of which have the potential to impact the future growth and sustainability of the tourism sector. In spring of 2017, a new destination assessment tool was used within the Okanagan Valley to assess the competitiveness of the planning area.

The tool provided an opportunity to assess four broad areas of the Okanagan Valley:

1. DESTINATION READINESS looked at general attributes of the destination and travel to, and within, the destination.

2. TOURISM ASSETS AND EXPERIENCES looked at the entire range of tourism resources and assets, and the delivery of experiences.

3. SUPPORT SERVICES AND INFRASTRUCTURE looked at the infrastructure that supports the industry, such as the accommodation sector.

4. ENABLING CONTEXT looked at the strategies, policies, and resources that enable the industry to thrive sustainably.

The assessment indicated an overall score of 3.5 out of 5 for the area based on a series of 130 statements. The assessment of the sub-elements is presented in Figure 10. These findings complement the desk research and the workshop discussions on strengths, challenges, and opportunities.

ASSESSMENT SUMMARY – SUB ELEMENTS

To build on these strengths and address these challenges, the area’s tourism stakeholders have identified key opportunities that form the foundation of the Okanagan Valley Destination Development Strategy. These key strengths, challenges, and opportunities are summarized below in Figure 11.

G. DEVELOPMENT CONTEXT – THE THOMPSON OKANAGAN REGIONAL TOURISM STRATEGY

At the regional level, the Thompson Okanagan ten-year regional tourism strategy (Embracing Our Potential, November 2012) provides the strategic framework for the development of tourism within the Thompson Okanagan tourism region.

The regional strategy identified five experience-based themes that have been shaping priorities and actions since 2012 and are regarded as core to positioning the Thompson Okanagan as a region of iconic and authentic quality experiences — destinations for passion, fulfillment, and adventure.

- IDENTIFYING THE ICONIC profiling and developing those truly outstanding experiences and activities associated with iconic landscapes will differentiate the region and set it apart from its competitors.
- ENRICHING LOCAL FLAVOURS strengthening the region's growing emphasis on local flavours and building recognition for its culinary attributes.
- REVEALING THE STORY highlighting the local and regional stories in a way that will allow visitors to make a strong emotional connection with the destination.
- EXPANDING PERSONAL HORIZONS identifying unique learning experiences and opportunities for self-development, recognizing that learners constitute 35% of the global travel market.
- BUILDING AUTHENTICITY focusing on creating a strong sense of place and opportunities for travellers to engage in immersive experiences with local communities and enjoy the sense of being where things are real and original.

In addition to the five underlying themes, and the value of using them to build a distinctive destination, the regional strategy identified other areas where the industry would benefit from further strategic planning — areas that would address the objectives related to reducing the seasonality, increasing yield, and maximizing the spread of benefits throughout the region.

The areas identified include:

- Events
- Indigenous cultural tourism
- Trails
- Access
- Research
- Visitor services, packaging, and sales.

IN IDENTIFYING THE DEVELOPMENT PRIORITIES FOR THE OKANAGAN VALLEY PLANNING AREA, CONSIDERATION HAS BEEN GIVEN TO BUILDING ON THIS FRAMEWORK, WHILE RESPONDING TO THE CURRENT AND FUTURE ISSUES AND OPPORTUNITIES FACING THE INDUSTRY AND DESTINATION.

STRATEGY DIRECTION

A. VISION

The following 10-year vision has been created. It is based on the 10-year aspirations for the Okanagan Valley planning area expressed by tourism partners during the consultation process, while also seeking to align with existing community plans and related strategy frameworks. The goals, strategies, and actions within this strategy have been prioritized to achieve the elements identified within this vision.

A SEMI-ARID VALLEY AND PLATEAU REGION OFFERING A DISTINCTIVE DIVERSITY OF LAKES, ORCHARDS AND VINEYARDS, PINE FORESTS AND MOUNTAIN BACKCOUNTRY – BURSTING WITH A CORNUCOPIA OF FLAVOURS AND PROVIDING A BACKDROP FOR YEAR-ROUND ACTIVE FUN AND CHALLENGE. A DESTINATION OFFERING RELAXED URBAN ENERGY FUSED WITH THE INTERPLAY OF TRADITIONAL AND LIVING OKANAGAN FIRST NATIONS CULTURE, AND THE HERITAGE AND STORIES OF MORE RECENT TIMES.

B. GOALS

Three inter-related destination development goals have been identified to support the vision for the Okanagan Valley.

1. Develop distinctive experiences with a high level of market appeal.
2. Work collaboratively to maintain a healthy natural environment.
3. Disperse the benefits of tourism throughout the Okanagan Valley planning area.

In addition, the Destination BC Destination Development Program provides two common provincial goals that all 20 planning areas around BC will support:

4. Lead Canada in growth of overnight visitor expenditures.
5. Secure the highest Net Promoter Score in North America.

C. GUIDING PRINCIPLES FOR DESTINATION DEVELOPMENT

As the journey of destination development continues in the Okanagan Valley planning area, choices will have to be made and priorities set. Guiding principles were discussed by stakeholders and it was agreed that the Destination Development Strategy and related decision making will continue to focus on:

- Maintaining the integrity of landscape, environment, and cultural heritage
- Enriching the quality of life
- Integrating and supporting other sectoral interests
- Collaborating in a purposeful and respectful manner
- Aligning with Embracing Our Potential, the provincial tourism strategy, and the federal tourism strategy

D. MOTIVATING EXPERIENCES

An identification of the key motivating experiences that will set the destination apart as a competitive and sustainable destination and will entice the visitors we want to visit is an important step in developing the strategy.

The first stage in identifying the experience potential involves developing an understanding of the key attributes and personality of the Okanagan Valley. Participants in the planning process described the region's key attributes, experiences, and essence using common words and phrases. These are illustrated in Figure 12.

Visitor experiences that encapsulate this personality and focus on leveraging these attributes and the underlying five experience themes will strengthen the distinctiveness of the Okanagan Valley planning area and its overall positioning in the marketplace. A key focus of this strategy is to ensure there is a collective mass of activities for each of these experience themes to motivate year-round travel to the Okanagan Valley.

DESTINATION THEMES

- RECREATIONAL OASIS – WATER-BASED, WINTER, GOLF, TRAILS
- CULINARY FLAVOURS
- CULTURAL HERITAGE – VALLEY PAST AND PRESENT
- FIRST NATIONS – THE INTERIOR SALISH

DEVELOPMENT THEMES

- Planning and Sustaining the Natural Environment
  - Approving approaches to enhance planning and collaboration
  - Strengthening mechanisms that will foster sustainability
  - Developing and managing sustainable trail systems
- Industry readiness
  - Improving availability of skilled labour to meet the predicted human resource needs and the expectations of the visitor
  - Promoting the value of tourism
  - Measuring performance
- Visitor Experience
  - Developing niche sectors
  - Enhancing rural towns sense of place
  - Using technology to add value to the visitor experience
- Transportation connectivity and supporting infrastructure
  - Improving transportation within the Okanagan Valley
  - Expanding air transportation to the Okanagan Valley
  - Improving technological connectivity
  - Developing housing and accommodation solutions

E. DEVELOPMENT THEMES

Destination development strategy themes defined the priorities that surfaced from tourism partners through the planning process to support the vision and goals, as well as the motivating experiences. Four destination development themes were identified that align with existing priorities and aspirations. These development themes will ensure the ongoing growth of tourism in an appropriate manner. Each theme has objectives and actions identified to support it.

1. PLANNING AND SUSTAINING THE NATURAL ENVIRONMENT. A commitment to the concept of sustainability underlies the existing Thompson Okanagan regional tourism strategy. This has been strongly reinforced with its recent accreditation as a Biosphere Destination and the recognition gained through the global Tourism Tomorrow award and other awards. The emphasis moving forward is to build on these successes.

2. TRANSPORTATION, CONNECTIVITY, AND SUPPORTING INFRASTRUCTURE. Improving air access to the Okanagan Valley and developing new transportation options that facilitate ease of movement within the planning area will assist in growing existing markets and attracting new markets. Addressing supporting infrastructure needs such as staff housing requirements and the need for consistent technological connectivity across the planning area will support the tourism business community and will improve the context for developing industry readiness, while strengthening the visitor experience.

3. INDUSTRY READINESS. The readiness of the industry is dependent on a broad mix of factors that range from ensuring adequate labour resources with the capacity to meet the needs and expectations of today's visitor, to the degree of community and political support that the tourism sector enjoys, which in turn depends on an understanding of the value of the sector to the economy.

4. THE VISITOR EXPERIENCE. The delivery of a quality experience is highly dependent on the interplay of the preceding development priorities. While the planning area already offers distinctive experiences, an ongoing focus on the strategic development of new niche experiences and strengthening the sense of place within the smaller rural communities will assist in further differentiating the Okanagan Valley. The use of technology to enhance the visitor experience will add additional value.

F. INTERACTION OF DEVELOPMENT THEMES AND MOTIVATING EXPERIENCES

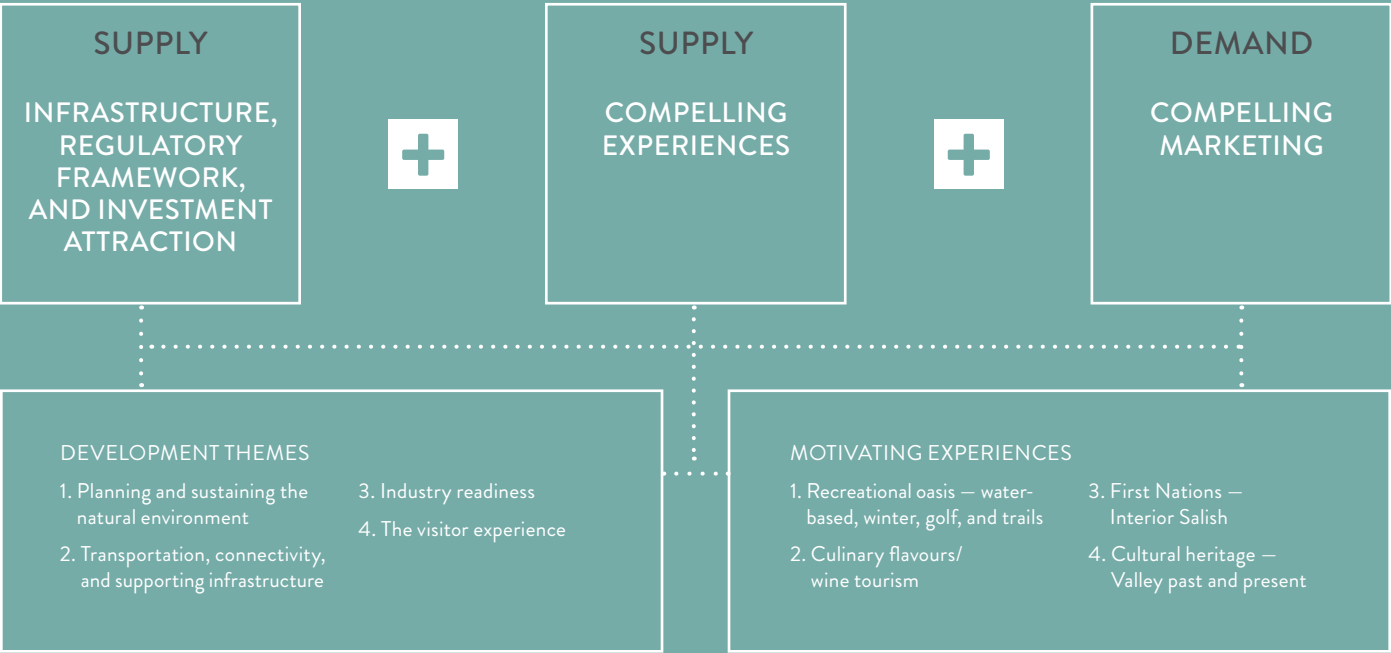

For any destination development strategy to achieve its goals, there must be coordinated interaction with the other components of the tourism development process. As mentioned in Section 1, tourism has two primary revenue drivers — supply and demand. Destination development focuses on the supply side of tourism by providing the setting, access, policy framework, investment attraction, experiences, and visitor services to attract new visitors and entice repeat visitation. Demand side marketing efforts strive to create urgency for people to want to visit.

The interaction of supply, demand, development themes, and experience themes is cyclical. The process of developing supply drivers such as transportation, policy frameworks, and investment attraction supports the development of compelling experiences. These experiences are then able to be marketed to potential visitors to generate demand. The marketing demand drivers lead to purchase decisions which result in visitation. Then, a new cycle of supply-side management and investment is set in motion to encourage competitiveness, sustainability and tourism-driven benefits over the long term.

Each of the four development themes will contribute to each of the experience themes that have been determined for the Okanagan Valley, although they will do so at different levels, based on the actual objectives recommended.

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

MYRA CANYON ADVENTURE PARK

Presenting the destination development objectives within a consistent framework allows the government of BC and the Okanagan Valley planning area to examine the various priorities and to identify those which belong within a regional or provincial strategy. Where the proposed objective has provincial or regional scope beyond this planning area, it is noted.

The Working Group utilized a framework to determine the prioritization of each objective and the relative timing for implementation:

1. QUICK WINS high value tactics with low complexity and can be achieved within three years (2019–2022).

2. LONGER TERM ACTIONS high value, high complexity that require four to 10 years to achieve the result (2023–2029) albeit activities can begin immediately to achieve the outcome.

3. SET ASIDE UNTIL RESOURCES ALLOW low complexity and low value, address when time and/or resources exist.

4. LEAVE OUT OF STRATEGY, RE-EVALUATE IN FUTURE high complexity and low value, not realistically achieved in the 10-year time frame of this strategy.

*Organizations and partners listed under the success networks have been identified collectively through the strategy development process as likely playing a role in moving a potential objective or action forward. In no way is this meant to suggest any form of commitment or endorsement of the objective or action.

Presenting the destination development objectives with a consistent framework will allow the province and the planning area to examine the various priorities across all planning areas to identify those which belong within a regional or provincial strategy. The success network is identified, and where the proposed objective has provincial or regional scope beyond this planning area, it is noted. This list does not represent all the opportunities that emerged during the planning process, but those that emerged as a higher priority for tourism destination development.

A. OBJECTIVES AND ACTIONS

In total, 40 objectives have been identified for the Okanagan Valley planning area for the next 10 years. The following section outlines the objectives by each development theme, the priority, and relative timing for implementation. It also identifies the priority actions within each objective. This is not meant to be an exhaustive list of all tactical implementation activities, only a highlight of the priorities. As such, objectives or actions may require a more detailed implementation strategy.

APPENDIX

APPENDIX 1: PLANNING CONSIDERATIONS

This section summarizes the strategy context and provides the key directions the Okanagan Valley Destination Development Strategy should address.

On the basis of the desk research, the destination audit, and the consultation process, the following strategy considerations were identified for the Okanagan Valley:

COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABILITY

The Thompson Okanagan tourism region is the first in the Americas to receive the Biosphere Destination certification which involved meeting 137 benchmarks in sustainability measurements relating to a range of standards such as affordable, clean energy and water use; human rights and social justice; gender equality; cultural diversity and equality; labour standards; health and poverty standards; and sustainable communities. This major accomplishment is a direct outcome from the commitment to sustainability made in the 2012 regional tourism strategy, and demonstrates the importance of a clear strategic direction.

The destination audit score of 3.6 highlights the fact that the industry and related partners overall recognize the underlying commitment to sustainability. Moving forward, it will be important to continue building on this accomplishment at all levels — to achieve sustainable and healthy communities, ecosystems, businesses, and residents.

Overall, strong response scores were given to the audit statements relating to measuring the sustainability indicator: the tourism industry is being developed in a sustainable manner with due consideration being given to the local environmental, economic, and social needs of the community, and the expectations of the visitor. Tourism is viewed in a positive manner as an economic sector that is contributing to the well-being of the Okanagan Valley planning area.

Similarly, the statements relating to the natural tourism assets are high and demonstrate the importance of these assets to the visitor experience. Clearly, it will be important to continue to protect and manage these assets and the destination development strategy needs to identify priorities for the next 10 years and beyond. Areas of concern and/or strategic action related to:

- A regionally coordinated strategy for water management to avoid negative impacts to visitors and residents.
- Ensuring adequate access to pump-outs for boats and marinas to maintain water quality
- More enforcement designed to mitigate environmental damage from boating activity, including shoreline damage and promoting ongoing awareness of the invasive mussel program.

TRAILS

Significant resources have been directed toward developing iconic trail experiences within the planning area. Through new trails development (Okanagan Rail Trail), improving connectivity between trail systems, enhancing technology-based services and related support services — developing new experiences and market awareness of offerings and these actions raise the overall profile and significance of trails as an asset. Priorities to consider include:

- Developing sustainable management and maintenance models.
- Developing a consolidated development and management strategy for the entire proposed Sicamous to Osoyoos Trail in collaboration with all partners.
- Improving designation and enforcement policies regarding usage. This will involve looking specifically at motorized trail policy and determining appropriate development and management strategies.

- Supporting environmental flow needs and the activities of the Okanagan Water Board working with First Nations on stream water management, primarily targeting fisheries.
- Policy regarding lakefront development, including access.
- Ways of preserving and leveraging the semi-arid, rugged open-landscapes for new experiences, as well as the Valley floor landscape.

- Continuing to build new trail-related experiences that are integrated with other sectors.
- Continuing to support TOTA's discussions with First Nations on developing partnerships and working on connectivity opportunities through reserve lands.
- Continuing to monitor using new technology (e.g., working with Telus), and working with partners and businesses to increase their understanding of trail users, markets, trail usage, etc.
- Increasing access to trailheads for visitors without personal transportation options.
- Improving access opportunities for visitors with disabilities (e.g., beacon technology for the visually impaired).

TRANSPORTATION INFRASTRUCTURE AND INTRA-REGIONAL CONNECTIVITY

Connectivity within the region continues to be an area of concern. The overall audit score of 3.6 measures a slightly wider range of statements relating to whether visitors can easily travel within the destination and access its services, amenities, and attractions. Although scores were generally strong in a number of areas, there are issues that need to be addressed within the destination development strategy.

These include:

- Expensive taxi services. Kelowna's harmonized rate for taxis is among the highest in the country.
- No regular intra-regional transit service (other than weekly health service buses). The issue has been intensified by the elimination of Greyhound service in the country. Visitors are unable to use transit to move within the Valley, and public transit as a component of tourism is not acknowledged.
- Private sector transportation services are available but can be expensive.
- Insufficient car rental supply.
- Lack of safe bike routes to traverse the Valley.
- Highway capacity issues.

In light of concerns, there is a need to consider the following:

- Developing an intra-regional transportation strategy that also looks at transportation needs. A transportation strategy that takes tourism into consideration will need to assess the nature of demand and overall feasibility, including demand from employees. Areas identified:
  - Hop on/hop off service
  - Role of the sharing economy in meeting transportation needs (e.g. bike share program, electric cars, etc.)
  - A lake transportation system
  - Policy aimed at increasing supply of transportation options
- Identifying remaining areas with limited cell coverage or internet connectivity and exploring options for greater access to wi-fi (connectivity is poor within the Okanagan Valley Connector, Kettle Valley Railway, higher plateaus between Osoyoos and Penticton).

INDUSTRY READINESS

The readiness of the tourism industry to compete globally and to deliver quality and memorable experiences is a key element to be considered in developing the destination over the coming 10 years and beyond. It involves a number of factors including availability of skilled labour, support infrastructure for employees including: affordable housing, access to professional development opportunities, and access to investment capital.

The responses to the HR statements in the audit are favourable with the exception of the industry's ability to recruit and retain staff successfully. Areas to consider:

- Overall labour recruitment and retention challenges are intensified by the seasonality of the industry and the difficulties in providing year-round employment; and by the changes to the regulations regarding foreign workers. A shortage in affordable housing for staff further aggravates the situation.
- Review the outcomes of local studies on affordable housing (Summerland and Kelowna) and assess the extent to which other communities can benefit from the findings (Note: the housing situation is further exacerbated by Agricultural Land Reserve policies).
- Consider establishing a housing committee or task force with provincial and regional representatives.
- The industry's ability to gain support from banks and lending institutions on loan applications received an audit score of 3.1, which continues to be an area that needs to be supported.

SUPPORTING INFRASTRUCTURE

The following factors were highlighted for review:

- The opportunity to develop larger conference and/or convention space in Kelowna, and the need to consider additional, supporting accommodations.
- The opportunity to further diversify accommodation options (e.g., Indigenous glamping facilities).
- Policies for attracting investment.

POLICY AND THE REGULATORY CONTEXT

Discussions on policy and the regulatory context highlighted a number of issues that constrain the development of a competitive destination.

- The Agricultural Land Reserve policies have implications in different contexts and all require consideration:
  - Currently limits YLW's ability to develop and expand.
  - Uncertainties and issues with developing agritourism.
- Water management: policy gaps with water management effects at YLW (e.g., regarding the management of creeks flooding, run-off, dredging, culverts) and there needs to be greater clarity on how to mitigate the associated impacts on the airport.
- Disaster mitigation and ways of strengthening the industry's capacity to offset losses (e.g., through a review of cancellation policies for the accommodation sector).
- Enforcement of existing policies needs to be strengthened. Areas highlighted include:
  - Regulations on tourism operators and new start-ups without adequate adherence to existing regulations with insurance as one such example.
  - Regulation of the sharing economy and leveraging where possible and controlling where required.
  - Ensuring that zoning policies are up-to-date and reflective of the needs of the industry.
  - Exploring opportunities with the government of BC to review the MRDT. It is currently regarded as very onerous in terms of reporting and administrative tasks, and difficult for small DMOs to manage, particularly the five-year re-application.
  - Need for stronger regional advocacy on tourism related issues.

THE VISITOR EXPERIENCE

The preceding factors all influence the capacity to deliver quality experiences that are memorable and will generate longer stays, greater levels of spending, repeat and new visitors. This section looks at specific issues that need to be addressed to increase the market appeal of particular areas of tourism.

Overall, the audit showed strong scores for statements relating to the delivery of visitor experiences, with an average score of 3.6. There has been significant progress since the completion of the 10-year Thompson Okanagan regional tourism strategy in 2012, and the implementation programs and work of partners have all had a positive effect on the industry. Looking toward the next 10 years and beyond, areas and opportunities to assess and work on, include:

- INDIGENOUS TOURISM — this has strong potential for expansion and clear interest from First Nations participants in the strategy process to play a lead role (the strategy process included one workshop that focused solely on Indigenous tourism which was attended by representatives of various First Nations).
  - Highlight the unique elements of the Interior Indigenous Peoples experience to help the visitor appreciate the region from an Indigenous perspective.
  - Develop new experiences that are nature-based (horseback riding, rafting, canoeing, ATV tours), heritage tours, First Nations ranching, food and culture tours, and other experiences.
  - Build greater understanding with the wider tourism industry on cultural protocols, sensitivities, etc.
  - Improve First Nations access to funding capital for product development.
  - Enhanced planning for tourism within First Nations communities and within official community plans.
  - Improve First Nations partnerships with key stakeholders (e.g. YLW).
  - Accreditation program and/or tourism business liaison.

- Build on the current CULINARY strengths — work to combine culinary elements with other types of experiences.
  - Develop experiences where wine is a strong component but recognizing that wine is not a primary driver (recent Wine Institute research).
- RAIL TRAIL EXPERIENCES which were discussed earlier in this strategy.
- WATER-BASED experiences:
  - Review and consider implications of findings from the Okanagan Water Board studies of boat users.
  - Improving lake access.
  - Potential to further zone for non-motorized activities.
  - Creating new integrated experiences involving activities on the lakes.
- Develop NEW AND ALTERNATIVE EXPERIENCES, such as backcountry winter camping. In addition to product and experience development, the following needs to be considered:
  - Enhancing support services (e.g., developing new hiking and biking maps; developing a coordinated events calendar; Visitor Centre instant-messaging).
  - Quality and an increased emphasis on accreditation.
  - Industry awareness: continue to work toward improving industry's understanding of the diversity of experiences, particularly experiences outside the peak season.
  - Sense of place: continue to strengthen local identities in which communities understand their own identity within the wider region, and work toward enhancing it.
